THE Proceedings of the Parliament of Paris at the Registering of the King's Letters Patents for receiving the Pope's Bull condemning Father Quesnel's Book.

Copied from the Registers of the Parliament.

February 15. 1714.

THIS Day the great Chamber and Tournelle being assembled, the King's Counsel entered; and Master William Francis Joly de Fleury speaking for them, said:

Gentlemen, We lay before the Court the Letters Patents issued by the King upon the Constitution of our Holy Father the Pope, condemning the Book intitled The New Testament in French, &c.

You will see, Gentlemen, by the Reading of those Letters Patents, with how great Zeal the King, who has ever been vigilant from the Beginning of his Reign to root out antient Errours, and stop the Progress of new, has judged he ought to make use of this Authority for restoring the Peace of the Church disturbed by a Book of which many Bishops of his Kingdom have complained to him, as of a pernicious Work, renewing the Errours of Jansenism so often condemned by the Holy See and by the Bishops.

As eldest Son of the Church he thought himself obliged first to consult the visible Head of the Church; and the Voice of a considerable Part of the Bishops of France assembled by the King's Order, having actually joyned with the Voice of the chief Pontiff who has condemned that Work, the King has judged it his Duty to authorise the said Constitution by the Letters Patents which we are come in his Name to require you to Register.

You will not find, Gentlemen, in the outward Form of that Constitution, either the Clause ex mero Motu Papæ, or the other ordinary Clauses which our Office has obliged us so often to oppose in this Court; even honourable Mention is made in it of the King's repeated Instances which gave birth to the Constitution: However, as notwithstanding the Omission of those Clauses, an ill Use might yet be made, either of the Quality of the Judgement pronounced, or of some general Expressions which are scattered in it, we cannot refrain proposing to you the inserting in the registering of the Letters Patents, the general and usual Reservation of the Rights of the Crown, the Liberties of the Gallican Church, the Power and Jurisdiction of the Bishops.

If from the exterior Form of the Constitution, we proceed to the Examination of the Decrees which are mentioned in it and the Decisions it contains, our Station obliges us to offer to your Observation that it enumerates other Sentences of Condemnation which were never received in this Kingdom, and which might seem to be authorized in some Manner by the registering of this Bull, if you should not use the Precaution to declare, in proceeding upon it, that 'tis without approving the Decrees not received in the Kingdom, mentioned in the present Constitution.

But a Point of yet more Importance deserves our principal Attention, and at the same time requires the Attention of the Court; 'tis the Condemnation of Propositions which relate to Excommunications, and the Abuse which might be made of it by those who under that Pretext would either with-hold from Bishops, Successors of the Apostles, the Power of the Keys which they received from Jesus-Christ himself, or assert that unjust Excommunications, nay even the Threats of an unjust Censure, might suspend the performance of the most essential and most indispensable Duties.

You easily perceive, Gentlemen, the Consequences which might be drawn from so dangerous an Opinion; the Liberties of the Gallican Church, the Maxims of the Kingdom, concerning the Authority of our Kings, the Independence of their Crown, the Fidelity due to them from their Subjects, might be annulled or at least suspended in the Minds of the People by the sole Impression which the Threats of an Excommunication, tho' unjust, might make upon them.

We have no Need to remind you of the History of past Ages, to induce the Court to look well to a Danger which offers it self sufficiently to View, 'tis enough to have pointed at it to engage you to prevent it by a convenient Modification, which preserving the Maxims and Usages of the Kingdom in the Point of Excommunications, may provide that under Pretext of the Condemnation of the Propositions relating to that Point, it may never be asserted that in any Case wherein the Fidelity and Obedience due to the King, the Preservation of the Laws of the State, and other real and certain Duties are concerned, the Fear of an unjust Excommunication might hinder the King's Subjects from performing them.

In this Manner, and by Reservations so prudent and so necessary, you will answer the Confidence which the King has placed in your Abilities, by referring to your Examination the Form and Clauses of the Constitution which may relate to the Publick Order.

This Speech being made, the King's Counsel left on the Table the said Letters Patents with the said Constitution in the Form of a Bull, the King's Lettre de Cachet, with the Conclusions in Writing of the King's Procurator-General, and withdrew: And then all the Chambers being assembled, first the said Lettre de Cachet was read, and after it the said Letters Patents, the said Constitution, and the Procurator-General's Conclusions: And the Matter being taken into Deliberation

The Court decreed and ordained, that the said Letters and Constitution shall be registered in their Office, to be executed according to their Form and Tenour; without Approbation of the Decrees not received in the Kingdom, mentioned in the said Constitution; as also without Prejudice to the Liberties of the Gallican Church, the Rights and Preeminences of the Crown, the Power and Jurisdiction of the Bishops of the Kingdom; and without allowing the Condemnation of the Propositions relating to the Point of Excommunication, to impeach in any wise the Maxims and Usages of the said Kingdom, or that under Colour of the said Condemnation it may ever be pretended that whensoever the Fidelity and Obedience due to the King, the Observation of the Laws of the State and other real and unquestionable Duties are concerned, the Fear of an unjust Excommunication may hinder the King's Subjects from performing them. Done in Parliament the 15th of February 1714.

AT the Theatre-Royal in Drury-Lane, this present Monday, being the 22d of February, will be presented a Play call'd, The Humorous Lieutenant. Written by Rowmond and Fletcher. And to Morrow will be presented the Tragedy of Jane Shore.

AT the Queen's Theatre in the Hay-Market, to Morrow being Tuesday, the 23d of February, will be presented a new Opera call'd, Crotus. In which Mrs. Roland performs a Part. With several Symphonies play'd by the famous Varacini. Boxes 5s. Pit 2s. Gallery 2s. 6d. Boxes on the Stage Half a Guinea.

To all Lovers of Musick.

This Day the 22d Instant, at Stationer's-Hall, for the Benefit of Mr. Wells and Mr. Kenny, will be an excellent Concert of Vocal and Instrumental Musick, performed by Eminent Masters, English and Foreign. Among other choice Compositions, a celebrated Song of Mr. Handel's, by a Gentlewoman from Abroad, who hath never before exposed her Voice publicly in this Kingdom.
To which will be added an uncommon Piece of Musick by Balloons only. Country Dances when the Concert is over, and such a Decorum kept that the most innocent may be present without the danger of an Affront. Tickets at 2s. 6d. each, to be had at Sam's Coffeehouse Ludgate Street, Tom's Coffee-house near the Royal-Exchange, Rainbow Coffee-house Temple-Bar, Will's Coffee-house Charing-Cross, Stoddard-Yard-Gate, and at the Hall-Door. To begin at Six.

Whereas it has been industriously and falsely reported, that the little Child that is under 3 Years old, that danced on the Rope and tumbled, is dead; Mr. Francis thought it proper to certify all People, that the Child is living and well; and he Challenges all Europe to produce a Child of his Age to perform what he does, both for Dancing and Tumbling. Likewise the little Girl about 7 Years old, that danced the Rope, vaulted the black Rope, and tumbled to the Admiration of all that ever saw her. Likewise the famous Maiden that danced on the Rope, and for vaulting the black Rope outdoes all her Sex; for, after several surprising entertainments, she draws up a Child from the Ground with a Glass of wine in her Hand, and drinks it off, hanging all the while by her Hams.
They are all gone from the Tennis-Court at St. James's, where they will perform no more; but Mr. Francis will in a very little time insert in this Paper where they will perform.

Whereas there are several Persons in and about the City of London, that pretend to make and sell the late Dr. Salmon's Medicines, and confidently affirm them to be the right; these are therefore to certify the Publick that they are all Counterfeits, there being none rightly prepared or made by any besides his Wif-dow, the only having his own Receipts, and made them for him above Twenty Years before he died, and still continues to make and dispose of them, as he has done ever since her Husband's decease, over-against his late Dwelling-House, at Black-Wyars-Stairs.

Just Publish'd, eux-Court without Temple-Bar, and at Will's Coffee-house near the Royal Exchange, at 3 s. a Bottle, with Directions. N.B. Any Person that is willing to dispose of this most excellent Liquor, by applying themselves to Mr. Clarke above-mentioned, shall find good Encouragement.

Famous Drops for Hypochondriack Melancholly: Which effectually cure on the spot, by restoring the Stomach and Blood, cleansing them from all Impurities, and giving a new Turn to their Ferment, attenuating all vicious tenacious Humours (which make the Head heavy, clog the Spirits, confuse the Mind, and cause the deepest Melancholly, with dreadful Views and black Reflections) comforting the Brain and Nerves, composing the hurried Thoughts and introducing bright lively Ideas and pleasant Briskness, instead of dismal Apprehensions and dark Incumbrance of the Soul, letting the Intellectuals at Liberty to act with Courage, Serenity, and steady Cheerfulness, and causing a visible diffusive Joy to reign in the Room of uneasy Doubts, Fears, &c. for which they may be truly esteem'd infallible. Price 3 s. 6 d. a Bottle, with Directions. Sold only at Mr. Bell's Bookseller at the Cross-Keys and Bible in Cornhill near the Royal-Exchange.

This is to give Notice, That the Royal Chymical Wash-Balls for the Hands and Face, are removed from Mr. Lamb-ert's the Glovers, to prevent the Publick's being imposed on by Counterfeits, and are now sold only at Mr. Allcroft's Toyshop at the Blue-Coat-Roy against the Royal Exchange in Cornhill, and at Mrs.
Giles's, Millener, next Hercules-Pillars-Alley by the Temple. They have above these 8 Years been largely experience'd and highly commended by all that use them, and that for making the Skin so delicately soft and smooth, as not to be parallel'd by either Wash-Powder, Cosmetics, &c. they being indeed real Beautifiers of the Skin, by taking off all Deformities, as Tumors, Ring-worms, Mor-phew, Sun-burn, Scurf, Pimples, Fits or Redness of the Smal-pox, and keeping it of a lasting and extreme Whiteness. They soon alter red or rough Hands, and are admirable in Shaving the Head, for they not only give a more exquisite sharpness to the Razor, but so comfort the Brain and Nerves, as to prevent catching Cold. They are of a grateful and pleasant Scent, without the least Grain of Mercury, and are sold only by Mr. Allcroft, and Mrs. Giles, as above, price 1 s. each, and no where else in London by Retail, therefore beware of Counterfeits, which are not only ineffectual but may also prove dangerous.
